For members who maintain both a Line of Credit and SafetyLink for checking account shortfalls, please note that the sequence for handling checking account shortfalls is to draw from the Line of Credit first and then SafetyLink.

By checking the box below, you can designate your preference that the sequence for handling checking account shortfalls be to draw from SafetyLink first, followed by your Line of Credit.

I would like to use SafetyLink first, then the Line of Credit for protection against checking account shortfalls.
